Atractive Program Arranged by the Bourbon Fair Management for Each Night During the Fair

The wiring of the grounds is completed and myriads of incandescent lights will make the grounds at night as bright as day for the Midway which will be given every night during the

One of the best attrations ever seen at a fair in Central Kentucky will be the Flying Mcores, fresh from the State Fair at Des Moines, Iowa. Two brothers and two sitsers compose the party of aerial artists, who, in mid air, perform many new and novel feats that border on something sensational. From one support to another they turn single and double somer-saults that are thrilling and never fail to please their audiences.

Edna Mae, the great show mare of Matt Cohen, heads the string of horses that arrived yesterday morning, and with the stables of Matlack & Shropshire, A. G. Jones, Smiley & Son, Collins & Redmon, and many others, the exhibition of saddle and harness horses is expected to eclipse any former exhibition of the fair.

The amphitheatre, buildings, fences and band stand have received a coat of whitewash and paint, and with every weed felled with mower and to forget the FLOUR and be sure to make it the kind the adopting of a rule of one judge to officiate in each ring, the management has struck a popular chord with horsemen. The former usage resulted in a number of horsemen declining to exhibit their stock, notably Matt Cohen, and others, all of whom are here this week with horses that have taken ribbons all over the country.

The Elemendorf berd of Shorthorns, the herds of Abram Renick of Clark, Joe Hall of Bourbon, and a prize held fom Sheby county, which compose the greatest display of pure bred beef and dairy cattle ever seen at a fair in Cen tral Kentucky. The exhibit opens this morning, the first day of the fair, followed by a big pony display in the af-ternoon. Don't forget the Midway to-night. Admission at the gate free.

Strike Settled.

The cloakmakers' strike, one of the greatest industrial disturbances in the history of America labor, was settled Friday night. Seventy thousand garment workers, who have been idle fo nine weeks, will shortly return to work. The agreement signed abolishes the unsanitary "sweat shops."

The Bourbon Fair Begins Today.

This morning the gates of the Bourbon fair grounds will be thrown open and the sixty-fourth annual exhibit of the Bourbon County Agricultural Society will be on in all its glory. With the promise of clear skies and from the interest manifested by the general public in the feature event of Bourbon county it should enjoy an auspicious opening.

The stock exhibit at the fair this year gives every promise of being the most attractive in the history of fairs

The offering in free attractions promises to eclipse any previous efforts of the society. The Flying Moores will give daily performances of one of the most wonderful feats ever put before the public. The Midway consists of some of the best at-tractions to be had. The program for today is as follows:

A Crown of Love

By H. SANBORNE BROWN

Copyright, 1910, by American Press

The reigning sovereign of Atruria, Prince Carl, had a son, Oluf. A neighboring principality-Essengen-had lost man to govern them and made no se- this exposition. cret of their contempt for a sovereign the consent of the two parties most it, she fell desperately in love with

One of the points claimed by the princess' subjects was that she should be sovereign equally with the prince, her husband, for at the time of the nuptials Prince Carl was to abdicate in favor of his son. There was so much feeling among the people of Essengen that in order to satisfy them one of Clothilde's ministers suggested that she wear the iron crown of the sovereign on her head at all public functions. The crown being heavy, a light one was made, and the princess wore it nearly all the while.

Great preparations were made for the wedding, which was to take place at the capital of Essengen, after which the bridal couple were to take up their residence in Atruria. The princess was so deeply in love with Oluf that she desired his presence most of the time in Essengen. This was not pleasing to the Princess Minna, who had conceived a great dislike for the prince. Indeed, she gave out to those about her that she would be glad when the couple were married, since then they would remove to Atruria and she would no longer be troubled with the presence of a very disagreeable man.

Shortly before the nuptials were to take place the Princess Clothilde fell There was at the time so much feeling on the part of her people as to her united sovereignty with the prince. who was to be her husband, that, although she was an invalid, her ministers insisted on her still wearing the iron crown. On one occasion when she had left it off a citizen of influence who opposed the union of the principalities was admitted to see her and as soon as he had left the palace attempted to foment a revolution on the ground that the princess had left off the crown.

Princess Clothilde grew worse and died, but a few days before the appointed marriage. Prince Carl, his son, Prince Oluf; the Atrurians and many Essengens were bitterly disappointed that the prospective union of the two countries had thus fallen through. Prince Oluf, however, who had taken as much liking to Princess Minna as she had taken dislike to him-indeed. it was said that had she been sovereign she would have been his choiceproposed that all that had been arranged should be carried out, Minna to become his wife instead of Clothilde. The proposition was acceded to by the union party of Essengen, but all expected that Minna even for reasons of state would not marry a man she so cordially disliked. However, the council went to her in a body, represented to her the importance of the union of the two countries and proposed that she become the wife of the man who was to have married her sister.

She flatly refused. Then commenced a struggle on the part of the unionists of Essengen. Prince Carl and especially Prince Oluf to induce her to change her mind. Prince Oluf, who had been in love with her instead of her sister from the start, was wild with disappointment. He wooed her with delicacy, but did not succeed in changing her antipathy for him. But what he could not bring about was in part effected by the princess' ministers. Finally on their representation that it was her duty to sacrifice herself for her people's good she consented to the marriage.

As soon as the fact was given out to the people the prime minister advised the princess to wear the iron crown. And now a strange thing happened. Prince Oluf was advised that the princess desired to see him. He entered gloomy from the fact of a dislike on the part of the woman he loved that he had not been able to conquer. What was his surprise when the princess put her arms lovingly around his neck and her head dropped on his shoulder. She married not only for reasons of state, but for love. Recently experiments in Paris by scientists have established the fact that a metal circlet worn on the head of a person suffering from hysteria if afterward placed on the head of another person will produce the same effect as in the first instance.

May we infer that in this instance it produced the same love?

Pyrotechnic Features Will Be Magnificent

Pain's "Battle in the Clouds" a Notable Feature of the Appalachian Exposition.

The pyrotechnic feature of the Appalachian Exposition in Knoxville, Tenn., September 12 to October 12, will be important. Great displays of Pain's peerless pyrotechnic presentations, mighty in their brilliancy, will be given every night during the first week of the exposition. The culminating feature, however, comes the second week of the exposition, when the "Battle in the Clouds," a wonderful story of the day with aerial realism will be presented.

"The Battle in the Clouds" is now being presented nightly in the immense new amphitheater at Luna Park, Cleveland.

Fully three hundred people participate in the stirring episodes, battles pageants and of this big exhibition, the beautiful scenic representation of the city of science together with the airships occupies the entire infield of the race track. The fascinating and thrilling midsummer night shows of the famous Pain have for twenty-seven years been the one big night attraction at the fashionable Manhattan beach, New York, and also for the same length of time at Alexandria Palace, London. The production to be given at exposition will surpass anything ever seen in an open air amusement line in the

The spectator will see before him the great amphitheater a mimic city of the period A. D. 2000, with its palaces, temples, triumphal arches, wireless telegraph stastions knows as 'The City of Science."

A fete is being held to celebrate the establishing of communication with Mars. Soldiers parade the streets and children will dance before "King Pyro" and his Queen Electra, rulers of the City of Science, and the greatest acrobatic and novelty acts procurable are presented.

Mars is displeased over the success of the World of Science being able to signal his planet and sends air-ships to warn the aspiring race to desist in its efforts. To wrest every secret from a reluctant nature, King Pyro defies Mars, and rends his perial fight. ing machines to pieces, gives a very graphic science version of the destruction of a city by aerial craft. When the smoke has fairly cleared away above the ill-fated city, the second grand event begins, a gorgeous display of Pain's Manhattan Fireworks terminates the evening's perform-

In this marvelous pyrotechnic program, which is changed nightly, are shown all the latest novelties in fireworks, for which the famous Pain is justly celebrated, both in this country and in Europe. Provision will be made to accommodate 10,000 people.

The acts secured this year for the "Battle in the Clouds" are the largest and best of the vaudeville world. The exhibition of Gene and Marie Acitzman on the high wire are alone worth a trip of miles to see. The flying Jordons, the Eugene Trio, Baine's Back Bounding Rope, Sudin Osterin with their trick horse and others equally as great furnish the program for the entertainment of the citizens of the City of Science.

CUPS FOR FINE POULTRY.

Several magnificent and very valuable silver cups have been offered as trophies in the poultry show premium list for the Appalachian Exposition in Knoxville, Sept. 12 to Oct. 12. The poultry will be judged by some of the crack poultrymen of the country.

We announce with pleasure the readiness of our Fall Stock of Clothing, Hats, Manhattan Shirts, Hosiery, and Custom Tailoring. Never before have we shown such a complete and varied line as we do this fall in all departments. We ask you to call and inspect them, look around and see for yourself what a complete line and what values we give you in every department. We invite visitors to the fair to make this store their headquarters---check their baggage here, have their mail addressed here, and in every way to make this their home.

CLOTHING---Fashionable Fall Clothes For Men Are Here.

There are several kinds of ready-to-wear clothes. Some are made in vast quantities to meet low price demand. These are the commercial kind. Others, even first grade clothes, which mean but slightly greater outlay, are made for the man who's easily pleased. In these little attention is paid to fit and finish, style is a neglected quantity. That's why it pays to get the best kind, the finest of first-grade clothes, the kind we sell.

In our Clothes you are assured of the very best in Style, Fit and Finish.

In our line of Clothing we show the best selected patterns, the best fitting, the most stylish models and at prices that are right. We are showing this season all the new models in browns, mottled greys, blues, in fact everything that is new, and the patterns of most of which are controlled exclusicely by us. A life-long saving and a better wardrobe will be the result of your critical inspection of our fall stock.

Address to the Tobacco Growers

Reresentative A. O. Stanley of Henderson, addressed a large crowd of tobacco growers at the court house in Paris Friday afternoon, in the interest of the Burley pool. Representative Stanley employed very forciful ilistrations in urging the pooling of the crop in Bourbon and declared the failure of the organization this year would be a common calamity. Ward Headley also delivered a strong argument, basing his remarks upon the report that the Trust had bought four hudred acres of tobacco in Bourbon county.

THE ANDORRANS.

All the Inhabitants of the Little Republic Are Related.

The inhabitants of Andorra, the little epublic which is wedged in between France and Spain and which has existed since the year 782, are very proud of their blue blood and ancient lineage. In their eyes a gavache (foreigner) of my description or nationality is merely an inferior being, a sort of mushroom upstart in comparison with themselves. During 1,200 years they have continually married and intermarried to such an extent that at present all the inhabitants are practically cousins, ret, strange to say, neither their physical, mental nor moral qualities seem to have suffered. Both sexes are strong limbed, broad shouldered, bright eyed, hardy and long lived, retaining their hair and their teeth to a green old age. They are also keen witted and intelligent, alert and happy hearted, sober, industrious, hospitable and devout. The feminine Andorran has not a vestige of coquetry about her. She is just the female pure and simple. She is a thrifty housewife, a helpmace to her husband in the most literal sense of the term-ready and able to trudge off across mountain and valley beside him with a pack of smuggled goods on her back in case of need .- Wide World Magazine.

PROMOTED THE COOK.

An Error Made Him a Professor of History In Russia.

Some years ago the minister of education in St. Petersburg was appealed to by telegraph for a cook, to be hurried to Moscow. The operator got his dashes and dots mixed, but by next train a man arrived and was ceremoniously conducted to the university, where he was introduced to the assembled faculty and students as the new professor in history.

The unhappy fellow protested that, while he might be a professor of pots and pans, he knew nothing about history. But in Russian official life it is harder far to correct an error than to make one, so for several years the cook has held his professorship, though no one attends his lectures.

Another laughable story comes from the Suwalky school for boys. A door-keeper there who could scarcely read or write had grown so untidy and slow that he was no longer useful, but as the headmaster did not want to set him adrift he promoted him to a teacher's post and had him transferred to a distant school. He, too, will be a professor some day.—Moscow Letter in New York World.

Didn't Want It Flattened.

This story is told of Jerome K. Jerome, the humorist. Returning from abroad one time, he fell into good company, with the exception of one man, who was what is known as "a walking encyclopedia." This man persisted in giving all sorts of information, much to the annoyance of Mr. Jerome and others. One morning, as the travelers leaned over the rail, admiring the rising sun, the man with the information turned to them and said almost solmenly:

"Gentlemen, if the earth were flattened out the sea would be two miles deep over the whole world."

Mr. Jerome turned around, seemingly stunned. Then he grew indignant, and, walking over to the other man, he said, shaking his finger menacingly: "Look here, man, if you catch any fellow trying to flatten out the earth shoot him on the spot. I can't swim."—Philadelphia Times.

London's Town Hall.

The guildhall is an important public building in London, which may be regarded as the town hall, and is the place of assembly of several courts, as the court of common council, the court of aldermen, the chamberlain's court and a police court presided over by one of the aldermen. The construction of the building was begun in 1411. It was partially destroyed in the great fire of 1666, but was soon restored, and in 1789 it was altered to its present form. The hall proper is 153 feet in length, 48 in breadth and 55 in height. It has been famous for centuries for the magnificence of its civic feasts. The first time it was used for this purpose was in 1500, when Sir John Shaw, goldsmith, who had been knighted on the field of Bosworth, first gave here the lord mayor's feast.

The Miserable Villain.

Low Comedian—After all these years Eggbert has at last succeeded in making a hit with the audience.

Soubrette—So? How does he do it? Low Comedian—You know he has always played villain roles. Soubrette—Yes.

Low Comedian—Well, in the last act of a new play the author allows him to repent and say, "I've been a miserable villain." That confession incariably brings down the house.—Boston Post.

"Ya'as."

"Goin' to lose yer darter, eh?"

is the lucky man."—Success Magazine.

No Danger of That. Mrs. Stubbs—John, no true man will smoke up his wife's curtains. Mr. Stubbs—I should say not. Anybody that smokes curtains would be a freak.

LIVE STOCK, PET STOCK, POULTRY AND OTHER DAYS

Arranged in Connection With Appalachian Exposition—Women's Conferences.

Among the many special days arranged in connection with the Appalachian Exposition, in Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 12 to Oct. 12, those of special interest to farmers and stock raisers will be the days set apart for live stock, pet stock and poultry. These dates, as announced by the exposition management, are as follows:

Live stock week, Sept. 12 to 17, inclusive.

Horse races, Sept. 12 to 17, inclusive.

Bench show for dogs, Sept. 22, 23, 24. Pigeon show, Sept. 27 to Oct. 1, inclusive.

Poultry show, Oct. 5 to 12, inclusive. The live stock committee of the exposition has charge of the live stock exhibit, and the poultry committee is arranging the displays of pet stock and poultry. The pet stock includes dogs, pigeons, etc. A large number of premiums have been offered for each of these shows. A feature of the premium list is about twenty-five silver loving cups for excellence in the displays of poultry.

In addition to these special days for stock, the exposition has arranged for several other special days, and plans are pending whereby other "days" will be announced later. The dates already assigned are:

Sept. 12.—Opening day, when Gov. M. R. Patterson, of Tennessee, and other notables will be present and participate in the formal opening of the exposition. President William J. Oliver, of the Appalachian Exposition Co., will preside and will deliver an address.

Library of Southern Books at Exposition

In the woman's board of the Appalachian exposition, to be held at Knoxville, Tenn., September 12 to October 12, the department of literature wishes to establish a permanent library after the close of the exposition, to be called the Appalachian library. The books to be placed and labeled as such, with the name of author or publisher who donates. With this in view, the committee is soliciting books which are recognized as southern literature. These books to be on exhibit in the Woman's building during the Appalachian exposition.

The library solicits a loan exhibit of old, new, rare and valuable books from private or public libraries and also asks for loan exhibits from publishers.

Books from private libraries must be plainly marked with owner's name and address.

Books from publishers will be marked with their name, address and the state they represent.

A loving cup will be given for the best selection from a private library.

A loving cup will also be given the publisher who donates the largest number of books to the Appalachian Books should be sent to the Woman's building of the exposition not later than September 10.

All books will be insured and every safeguard will be arranged for safety and return. Miss Kate White, of Knoxville, is chairman; Mrs. T. S. Devant, of Knoxville, is Secretary.
